United Nations Conference Is Near Harmony

Indications Point To Complete Agreement On Big Issues Of Security Plan

SOME BICKERING OVER CHAIRMAN

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 27.—The United Nations conference presented the strange paradox today of moving swiftly toward complete agreement on the momentous issues of future world peace, while bickering over the minor point of electing a presiding officer.

A steering committee of foreign ministers from the 46 participating nations was called into session again at 10:30 a. m. (PWT) to solve the dispute over a conference president. They will ratify the decision of yesterday when they agreed to rotate the presidency among American Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, Russian Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov and China's famed T. V. Soong.

However, the American delegation which wanted to name Stettinius a single president—was using heavy pressure to get two other choice plums for the American secretary. These would be the presidencies of the executive or security council and economic-social commissions, which will have important roles in the conference.

Real Progress Is Seen

The war-conscious peace-desiring delegations meanwhile were making rapid strides toward solving the really important issues of this historic conference. These were bright signs that the Russian bid for three votes in the general assembly of the

Marshal Petain Arrives In Paris; Is Facing Trial

PARIS, April 27.—(INS)—Marshal Henri Philippe Petain arrived in Paris this morning and was immediately confined at Fort De Montreuil on the outskirts of the French capital.

Petaim, charged with high treason, arrived in Paris aboard a special train with his wife and was closely guarded by French soldiers.

The 89-year-old former French hero and later chief of state of the Vichy regime crossed the Swiss border last night to be received in rigid silence by the French army he once commanded.

Andre Mornet, who will prosecute Petain, announced that he would ask the death verdict, but indicated that he might recommend clemency because of Petain's age.

Nine Members Of Bomber Crews Are Lost In Collision

CENTREVILLE, Tenn., April 27.—(INS)—Army officials today investigated a mid-air collision of two B-24 bombers near Centerville late yesterday in which nine crewmen lost their lives.

The dead included First Lieut. Thomas W. Sanders, (308 East North St.) Carlisle, Pa.

(By International News Service)

U. S. Third Army: Crossed the Austrian border two miles south of where Germany, Czechoslovakia and Austria join. Only 90 miles from the last reported positions of Russian forces west of Vienna. About 40 miles from Munich after capturing Ingolstadt and crossing the Danube.

U. S. Seventh Army: Pushed on Augsburg to points about 40 miles northwest of Munich, mopping up pockets of German resistance behind advance American spearheads.

French First Army: Completed their encirclement of the Black Forest and extended their hold along the Swiss border to a point from Lake Constance west to France.

British Second Army: Overran practically all the great port of Bremen, Germany's second largest.

Tells Of Scenes Inside Ruined City Of Berlin

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following dispatch was wirelessly from the heart of flaming Berlin to International News Service today by a trained Soviet war correspondent who accompanied the Russians into Germany's doomed capital.)

By BORIS BILOGORSKY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, April 27.—Row upon row of Berlin buildings, homes, stores and installations lie in ruins as I write this dispatch. Black smoke billows towards the heavens. Gun fire crackles. Planes zoom overhead.

Many blocks of Berlin already have been cleared. It is sufficient to say that the territory of Trepow, comprising over 10,000 acres, is cleared. So is Zehlendorf which covers another 12,500 acres.

Major Leonid Simonenko, experienced pilot, told me: "When I first saw Berlin it reminded me of the picture of the 'Last Day of Pompeii'—same black clouds, falling houses, purple conflagration seen from dozens of miles."

I saw the streets of Berlin myself. (Continued on Page Two)

Hear Report That Dittmar Is Taken

NEW YORK, April 27.—(INS)—The London radio said today that Lieut. Gen. Kurt Dittmar, formerly chief military commentator for the German radio, has been captured on the western front.

In a broadcast heard by CBS, the British radio said that Dittmar was taken in a group of German officers.

NEW REPORTS ON GOERING'S ACTIONS

LONDON, April 27.—(INS)—Diplomatic circles in London said today that resignation of Reichsmarschal Hermann Goering as commander of the German Luftwaffe coincided with reports that the be-madened Nazi had resumed taking drugs, wearing a Roman toga and painting his fingernails.

The Moscow radio said announcement of Goering's retirement was motivated by the report that his wife and daughter had escaped to an unknown destination with $20,000,000 worth of valuables.

MARCH ON GENOA ALSO IN PROGRESS

LONDON, April 27.—(INS)—The Free Milan radio reported today that Allied troops have entered Genoa and the Nazi garrison of 1,500 officers and men has surrendered.

By MICHAEL CHINIGO
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ROME, April 27.—American Fifth Army troops dashed to within 35 miles of Milan today and captured the strategic road and rail junction city of Piacenza, on the direct route to the great north Italian industrial city.

Other Allied troops swept into Legnano on the Nazis' vital Adige river line, 22 miles downstream from already captured Verona and less than 30 miles from Padua.

The Milan radio, in the hands of Italian partisans, claimed arrangements were underway whereby the surrender of all German forces left in Italy will be effected.

American armored columns are flying north and west of Lake Garda, while others slice up the Tyrrhenian coast toward Genoa.

Enemy Resistance Weak

Eighth Army troops closed up the Adige river to strengthen their positions on the south bank preparatory to a jump across.

Lieut. Gen. Lucian K. Truscott, commander of the Fifth Army, said the enemy resistance was generally weak and disorganized, but that strong enemy pockets still

BATTLE EXTENDED IN CITY SUBWAYS

By NATALIA RENE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, April 27.—

Paced by flame-throwers and midget bombers reportedly flown by women fliers, Red army troops swept three miles deeper into Berlin today, sounding the death knell to Nazi plans for protracted resistance.

With hundreds of bewildered Volksturmists surrendering each hour, the Soviets broke into Moabit, the working class district which houses the biggest prison in Berlin and overlooks the central park area known as the Tiergarten.

The Tempelhof airfield was reported occupied as the Reds choked off the isolated fields from which trapped Nazi leaders may attempt to flee the burning, rubble-strewn city.

Deep underground Russian spearheads advanced one more mile in the dank recesses of the capital's subway system, lowering additional artillery to the track level by means of ropes and pulleys.

The Reds, led by some of the best

Giant Bombers Smash Kyushu Second Time

GUAM, April 27.—(INS)—Between 100 and 150 giant American Superfortresses, in their second assault on the Japanese home island of Kyushu within 24 hours, today attacked six enemy airbases.

The bombing of the "dromes" on Japan's southernmost island was carried out in clear weather, from medium altitude. It was part of a coordinated attack on enemy airstrips from which Japs mounted air opposition to the U. S. Okinawa invasion forces.

The assaults were carried out by aircraft of the 21st Bomber command, based in the Marianas.

American Troops Cross Border Of Austria Increasing Threat To Redoubt

HITLER HIDEOUT BEING ENCIRCLED

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, April 27.—Troops of the United States Third Army drove headlong into Austria today.

The assault into Austria, the first independent nation swallowed up by Adolf Hitler in his campaign of world conquest, heightened the growing threat to southern Germany's so-called national redoubt, already pounded into comparative uselessness by incessant Allied air bombardment.

Continued advances carried American forces to within 85 miles of Russian vanguards in the redoubt area, which gradually is being encircled from west, east and south.

NEW YORK, April 27.—

(INS)—CBS reported from 12th Army Group headquarters today that the American Seventh Army had reached a point 25 miles from Munich, birthplace of the Nazi party.

Gen. George S. Patton Jr. slammed across the Austrian border two miles south of the combined frontiers of Austria, Germany and Czechoslovakia.

Other Advances

Elements of the 11th Armored Division also swept southeast to enter Gegenbach, a mile west of the Austrian frontier and six miles south of the boundary that separates the three nations.

Third Army forces gained control of the Danube river for a length of 80 miles from Kelheim, west of Regensburg, and to Deggendorf.

The crossing of the Austrian frontier put Patton's troops within 90 miles from the last reported positions of the Russians west of Vienna.

American troops who already have moved across the Danube, after capturing Ingolstadt, moved to within 40 miles of Munich.

The crossing by Patton's forces of the border constituted entry into the sixth country in which the Third Army has fought.

Plane Crashes At Washington

WASHINGTON, April 27.—(INS)—A 14-passenger airplane crashed and burst into flames while taking off from the Washington National airport this afternoon.

It was not immediately disclosed how many persons were in the plane or the extent of the casualties.

The pitcher was an ancient guy, his age was thirty-three, which isn't young for baseball men, a fact I think you see. And out upon the hills mounded his joints began to creak, as he wound up to shoot one in, and as the ball went sailing out I thought I heard a squeak. But these are days when athletes are on another club, and these are days when older guys who might be classed as dubs, must take their place on baseball teams, even at thirty-three, and do the job as best they can, the weather's thirty-three.

Senator Demands Bases In Pacific

Claims United States Should Get Territory Throughout Pacific Area

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Sen. Warren Magnuson (R) Wash., today said discussion of an international trusteeship over Pacific islands at the San Francisco conference would arouse resentment in the senate.

"Senate sentiment is strongly against any international trusteeship," Magnuson declared. "They should not even bring up the subject of bases previously occupied by Japan. The senate would object."

Magnuson, who served in the Pacific as a naval officer, said prevailing opinion of strategists is that the United States should have a system of far-flung Pacific bases after the war.

These, he added, would include possession of Truk, still in Japanese hands, a base in the Kurile islands north of Japan, two Jima and other small islands in the Pacific, the Marianas, bases in the Philippines and also in the Gilbert and Marshall islands.

"Not Imperialistic"

"Such a program would not be imperialistic," he said. "It ought to be welcomed by our ally, Russia, by Australia, New Zealand and other powers. If they are endangered again in the future, it is the United States that must defend them."

Bases in the Kurile islands, Magnuson asserted, are necessary because they are on the Aleutian air route which will become one of the world's great future air lanes.

"If we are going to have world peace backed up by some kind of force, obviously the United States must be strong in the Pacific," he said.

"All of the allied nations want the United States to keep a big Pacific fleet after the war. We must have bases to do it."

Such a program, he said, would offer no threat to Russia.

The problem of Japan itself, he added, must be left to the peace table.

RED ARMY TROOPS SMASHING DEEPER INTO RUINED BERLIN

regiments in the Soviet armies, inched forward along ripped-up tracks, past gutted stations and ruined rolling stock while through the tunnels swirled the acrid fumes of gunpowder.

On the street level, flame-throwers burned the Germans from the few strongpoints still in their possession while the hard-pressed enemy cast about for buildings suitable for a renewed stand. Almost every structure of any size has been razed, battlefront dispatches said, and many wounded Nazis have been found lying unattended in the streets.

Berlin is "Stony Desert"

One frontline dispatch described Berlin as "a stony desert" seared by Sahara-like winds hot with the flames of burning buildings. So thick is the dust that even at high noon the storm troops use flashlights to sight their guns, this dispatch said.

Overhead roared hundreds of Soviet midge bombers, described in battlefront dispatches as "of a type frequently flown by girl pilots." Their objectives were Nazi base points and machine-gun nests.

Front dispatches said that the Soviets held three-quarters of Berlin after capturing more important sections of the capital.

Bitter street fighting still raged behind Russian lines as Soviet troops surged forward and red tanks were reported rumbling four abreast through the Tiergarten as they slammed shells over the Brandenburg gate and into Unter den Linden.

Grim Manhunt

Red army troops were said to be conducting the grimest manhunt of all time as they ripped apart German buildings in the hope of finding Adolf Hitler, still reported in German dispatches to be conducting the defense of what remains of his capital.

Premier Marshal Joseph V. Stalin announced that first white Russian army troops captured Koenigsberg, 18 miles south of Berlin's center, and site of the main German radio station, Deutschland-Sender.

Soviet forces also overran the Goerlitz railway terminal, only two miles from Unter den Linden. Garmstadt and the industrial district of Siemensstadt were seized by the red army.

In Czechoslovakia, capture of Bruenn (Brno) released Soviet troops for a smash northwest towards Prague, in a giant pincer for which the first Ukrainian army in the north will supply the upper lever.

Stettin Taken

Far to the north, Stettin, third largest port of Germany, was captured after a tremendous assault by ground and artillery forces delivered the town into Russian hands.

The loss of Bruenn deprived the Germans of one of the principal cities left in Czechoslovakia devoted to war production. Stettin is Berlin's port on the Baltic and also an important war production center.

Acted out by a cast of 24 young singers, and supported by a large chorus, "The Cobbler of Fairland," an operetta, was presented by the grade school youngsters of Shenango township school in the school auditorium Thursday evening.

A rather ambitious undertaking for third through sixth grade children, the operetta was applauded enthusiastically by the large audience. Directors for the performance were Chester Kyle, music; Mrs. Olga Lavar, costumes and dialogue; Mary Pritchard and Geraldine Smiley, dances.

TELLS OF SCENES
INSIDE RUINED
CITY OF BERLIN

I agree with Pilot Simonenko. Here's a typical scene; along a broad avenue in captured Treptow, Soviet troops move in chains, keeping close to houses in chains.

But emptiness is only apparent. Selected gangs and cutthroats have entrenched themselves in houses. They have to be smoked out from each building.

With the help of street battle tactics so perfectly mastered, the resistance in some areas is strong. There are practically no houses left intact in this area.

In an effort to block a subway tunnel beneath the River Spree, the Germans flung up a barricade by overturning trams filled with earth, stone and timbers.

After a bitter hour long hand to hand fight, however, the Russians won the entrance to the tunnel, leading to a still unconquered section of the city.

The walls of the tunnel were blood splattered and bullet-raked. The evidence pointed to the intense struggle. Hundreds of dead Germans—both officers and men—remained in the battle zone at the mouth of the tunnel.

Every Russian soldier was on the lookout for Adolf Hitler, who may still be in the capital.

UNITED NATIONS CONFERENCE IS NEAR HARMONY

peace organization would be settled as quickly as the unannounced settlement of the Polish question.

Spokesmen from the smaller nations plainly indicated there also may be quick ratification of the "big five" for individual vetoes on the use of force to prevent aggression. "This concession to the power nations was determined upon at Yalta and is proposed for the United States, Britain, Russia, France and China."

Many great leaders in the conference are working too for a compromise on the controversy over enemy territory. Some authorities expect the final agreement will include some international trusteeships, like the old League of Nations mandates.

U. S. To Retain Control

In either event, the United States will retain military control of all enemy islands seized by American forces in the Pacific.

Latin-American diplomats meanwhile, made a secret move to end the controversy over admission of Argentina to the United Nations. They sent a note to Argentina to explain its action in arresting certain political leaders in the last few days. The Argentine reply may resolve the difficulty and result in an invitation to San Francisco.

The prospects for settling all these disputes amicably were so hopeful that one Russian attaché predicted Molotov would start for home within 10 or 12 days. The Soviet foreign commissar has plenty of work at home with red army troops already in Berlin and Russian armies holding vast German territory.

Presents Problem

Stettinus presented the "big three" problem bluntly. He said: "These peace-loving nations which have the military and industrial strength required to prevent or suppress aggression must agree and act together against aggression. If they do not agree and act together, aggression cannot be prevented or suppressed without a major war. This fact has been plainly spelled out by our experience in this war."

Stettinus explained this was why the "big four" drafted the formula for this conference. He added:

"This is why in the structure and powers of the security council (which may order force against aggressors) provision was made for this essential agreement and unity of action by the major nations."

It was his way of telling the little nations they must accept the "Dumbarton Oaks feature," which gives the five major powers the right to veto use of force against an aggressor.

Molotov Warns

Molotov, who has as great popularity in San Francisco as a "social lion" or movie star warned the "consequences would be disastrous" if the conference failed to reach its goal.

He told the delegates they should not forget the example of Soviet Russia, for within Russia the problems of the nations between the large and small groups, autonomous republics, have been settled in orderly manner.

Molotov hinted that the Polish issue had been settled, except for a routine consideration of the Poles themselves. He said:

"There is involved the question of reorganizing the present (Lublin) government on a broader basis and on this question the Polish government should be consulted."

Eden warned the conference was the "world's last chance" to seek a road to peace and that failure meant "the utter destruction of civilization." He stressed that the formula being placed before the conference was a "compromise."

WASHINGTON
by MARQUIS
CHILDS"Displaced Persons"
Menace In Europe

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Hitler's doctrine that the bigger the lie, the bigger the chance it will be believed seems to work in reverse when it comes to atrocities.

The news out of Germany is so appalling that it is hard for the normal human mind to take it in. We can comprehend individual acts of savagery, but mass murder and torture organized on the assembly line principle are beyond comprehension.

Apparently there are still people in this country who put down to "propaganda" the latest reports of murder factories. They say that it is in preparation for the Seventh War Loan drive.

Wise Move
For this reason it was a wise move by the War Department to take a group of congressmen and a group of editors to Germany to see at first hand the revolting evidence of the crimes committed by the SS and the Gestapo. Their reaction to these horrors will convince the most skeptical that no exaggeration is possible when it comes to frightful crimes perpetrated by the Germans.

Almost as distressing as the atrocity reports is the news that so little has been done to aid those who managed to survive the concentration camps and the torture pens. These "displaced persons," of every nationality, many of them close to starvation, are roving the countryside in the midst of increasing chaos and anarchy. We Gallegos of the Associated Press, in a remarkable dispatch from Germany, said recently:

"Much difficulty has been experienced because of the lack of sufficient machinery to deal effectively with the millions of released slave laborers and prisoners of war. There is widespread looting not only by the slave laborers, but also by Germans trying to get their hands on extra food and clothing for the dark days ahead."

The aim has been to try to keep these millions in camps until they can be dealt with properly. But there is not enough food to feed them. So they forage—and wander up and down the highways.

Other dispatches have stressed the serious lack of trained personnel for military government. In large areas it has been impossible to impose any semblance of order. It is not that this problem was unforeseen. A pamphlet put out by UNRRA last year emphasizes its vast scope—sorting out some 9,000,000 to 12,000,000 victims of Nazism and restoring them to their respective homelands.

"Plans Formulated"
"Widespread plans for coping with them are being formulated in co-operation with the military authorities and member governments," the pamphlet says. "It is planned that shelter, food, clothing, health and welfare services will be provided for displaced persons during both the military period and the period following until such time as their repatriation can be effected."

The fact is that almost nothing has been done. UNRRA today has fewer than 250 trained persons in Germany to help save millions of wrecked lives. More are going in, but in small numbers.

At the UNRRA offices the inquiring reporter is told that the blame does not rest there. It was impossible to get necessary cooperation from the military in Europe.

The story is that not until last December did SHAEF request UNRRA to recruit and train the special teams that were to handle displaced persons. Because most able-bodied, energetic men were in the army, it was difficult to get fit personnel. Just the other day, the army granted UNRRA permission to recruit men in uniform declared to be surplus.

Much Indifference
Administration of civil affairs was put under the army's G5, which promptly became a stepchild, unable to get supplies or transportation. Maj. Gen. Allen W. Gullion went to France to take charge of "displaced persons" for the army. He apparently beat his head against a stone wall of indifference.

UNRRA says that in this, the military phase, the army is responsible for these pitiful wanderers on the shattered highways of Germany. That may be true. A few officers working night and day to do a job that would take a force ten or twenty times as large.

Someone should assume responsibility, and quickly. These victims are carriers of typhus and every form of disease. If the disorder continues, they will soon become carriers of anarchy and revolution throughout Europe.

Words Of Wisdom
Doubt comes in at the window when inquiry is denied at the door.—Jowett.THE PERFECT HOSTESS
We are told about a perfectly poised hostess. She had some important dinner guests recently and was feeding them roast chicken. The maid entered the dining room bearing the only chicken the hostess had been able to locate for the occasion. But the maid stumbled on the edge of the rug and the finely browned bird slipped from the platter on the floor.

Hostess quickly, kindly, and in an undisturbed voice—never mind that. Mary. Take it back to the kitchen and bring the other one.—Salina, Kan., Journal.

The rookie jumped out of the plane, counted to 10, pulled the first cord. Nothing happened. He counted to 10 once more, pulled the second cord. Again, nothing happened.

"Phooey," he said to himself disgustedly. "I'll bet that truck won't even be down there and I'll have to walk back to camp."

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

YOUTHS MATURE IN ARMED SERVICES

One of the hardest problems for parents of young men in the armed forces, especially if he is under 20 years of age, is to treat him as a grown-up.

Now any person, man or woman, who has been in the service feels he is grown. If either parent, while he is home proceeds to tell him what to eat, when to come home at night or go to bed, or to boss him in hundreds of other ways, he will resent it.

I often wonder how many of these young servicemen on furlough choose to spend most of their hours away from their family as an escape from officious parental bossing. Of course some of these returning youths are merely following old patterns having been accustomed to be bossed almost every night in their earlier years.

Changed Outlook

Several months in a military training center ages a youth tremendously in his outlook on life and his sense of personal responsibility and self-management. A year or more in actual combat ages youths even more. Imagine a youth who has dropped bombs on Tokyo, stormed Tarawa or blasted out the Japs on Iwo, being told by his mother he should not sit in a draft or not stay out too late when he is home on furlough! Yet some are.

With a life experience in distant parts of the world facing death in order that the rest of us might live abundantly, the service man or woman not only is capable of managing his personal life at home but that he has wisdom about all sorts of domestic and world problems, deserving of respect, even by his parents.

Many of these returning youths whose parents treated their opinions and ideas when expressed in the family circle at the age of fifteen or sixteen as hardly worth listening to, or even with contempt or ridicule, may find these parents still following their old patterns. Yes, it's hard for parents to realize how much the returning youth has matured while they are still responding to him as if he were a young child.

Family Arguments

On the other hand the youth returning from the front is inclined to feel he knows more about the military situation and world affairs than he really does. Often he is actually less familiar with some of these matters than his civilian parents. His expression of cocksureness may easily irritate them and arouse antagonism between them and child even before they arrive home from the station.

Wise parents will control themselves in such cases and count the youth's brief time at home too precious to be marred with heated arguments. Don't let yourself stoop to childish quarrels under the guise of reasoning. Enjoy your homecoming and have looked forward to so long and eagerly.

Nevertheless, you should not lavish money on him just because "you love him so," or encourage him in carousing, nor be party to his reckless use of the family car.

ROOSEVELT MEMORIALS

As the nation recovers from the shock of its great leader's sudden passing, his thoughts will naturally turn to means of paying enduring tribute to his memory.

There could be no monument so fitting so much in harmony with the absorbing aim of his ebullient life as the construction of a permanent structure of justice and peace based on the brotherhood of man.

It may be taken for granted that those in every land who were inspired by his ardor and shared his aspirations will endeavor to carry to successful completion the task to which he had set his hand.

The minds of men will dwell also on other, if lesser, means of giving expression to their admiration and gratitude. The broadening of the work at Warm Springs, in which he was so deeply interested, suggests itself as a possible objective.

However, a manifestation of genuine devotion to the broad ideals for which Franklin Delano Roosevelt stood, the ideal that endeared him to so many people of so many lands—need not be spectacular.

There is not one of us who cannot pay more than lip service to the President's memory by little if unnoticed acts. For example, by stepped-up performance of the war task in hand. By blood donations. By purposeful cultivation of tolerance. By increased participation in war loans.

The thing the late President had set his heart upon—quick success in the prosecution of the war, grateful recognition of our obligation to the service men who are fighting our battles, provision of full employment when peace comes, economic security for all a general aim, poverty among our members of the family of nations will adversely affect each and all of us in one way or another help to promote.

The leader has gone on, out of our sight. His voice is stilled, but we listen we can still hear his echoes. How better can we honor him than by paying heed and trying to carry out the clearly detailed plans he left behind? Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

War And Navy Department Merger In Offing
Bureaus Will Not Be Joined Until After War
War Damage In France May Be Forty BillionsBy HELEN ESSARY
(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Rep. Clifton A. Woodrum, D of Virginia, chairman of the House committee on post-war military policy, predicts that proposals for a merger of the War and Navy departments will not be acted upon in Congress until after the war.

"I think there's little chance that anything will be done to establish a unified department of national defense until after the war with Japan," said Woodrum.

Woodrum's committee held public hearings on the proposal, but made no recommendations. Several proposals for merging the Army, Navy and Air Corps under one cabinet head have been introduced and are now pending in committee.

Total damage to property in France as a result of the war has been estimated at 40 billion dollars. French rehabilitation will require the services of 800,000 persons working 40 hours a week for 11 years. One million, two hundred thousand dwelling units and 120,000 industrial buildings will have to be restored.

Truman Had Good Time
President Harry S. Truman tells his former Senate colleagues he had a better time presiding over them than when he was one of them. Since he did not vote except in the rare case of a tie he did not have to worry about his constituents.

Truman, a skilled parliamentarian, sometimes took the liberty of throwing out hints to new Senate members as to what they should do and adopted the rushing tactics for which former Vice President John Garner was noted.

For example, when Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley, D of Kentucky, asked that the nomination of Fred M. Vinson for war mobilizer be called up out of order, Truman said out.

Without objection so ordered and without objection so confirmed.

Barkley, equally quick on the trigger, shouted "I move that the president be elected."

And Truman responded: "Without objection so ordered."

And before most spectators knew what was happening, the Vinson nomination had been approved.

Still Need Money
The House group met quietly in daily session, heard leaders in government and the food industry. It called on and got the collaboration of War Mobilization Director Fred Vinson, who produced for them every important government official connected with salaries and vitamins and good beef.

Bore Issues for Victory in the Far East will probably remain at the present level for the rest of this year. The cost of moving troops and supplies to the Far East will keep up the war bill. Next year, it may be reduced as the war becomes a one-front proposition.

The first men to return to the United States with eyewitness accounts of Navy amphibious operations in the Pacific are the directors of combat photography.

Dressed in their flying clothes, bagged and buckled after their long journey from the battlefield, they came straight from the airport to the Navy press room to tell what they saw of the fight for the beaches.

Usually they leave the scene of the invasion the morning after D-day. Next at Okinawa took four days. Five days later the reels had been cut and edited and distributed to the neighborhood movies to give the home front as only pictures can, a graphic idea of the war.

The next period in which you must have your car officially inspected begins May 1st. Past experience has shown that many motorists wait until the last few days of the inspection period to submit their cars for inspection. There is a severe shortage of mechanics and spare parts, and it may take several days to get the spare part needed to put your car in first-class condition. Approximately 90,000 cars in Troop D were ordered following the last inspection period because they neglected to have their cars inspected on time. Have your car inspected as soon after May 1st as possible. The inspection period runs through May, June and July.Bible Thought

Hitler Highway Plan Boomerangs

Every dictator in history has had certain claims to benefactions to his people. Mussolini, to the Italians, was the man who made the trains run on time, cleaned up the cities and modernized governmental functions. Adolf Hitler, in addition to his rantings against Germany's enemies, based some of his power on the fact that he did things for the Germans.

Among the Hitler benefactions were the super-highways—the Autobahns—stretching east and west and criss-crossing the Reich in wide concrete ribbons which every German someday hoped to traverse as freely as Americans once did their highway system.

We wonder today whether any of the Germans, trapped in the death of their nation, have time to think of these grandiose Hitler plans. If they do, they must be struck, as the Allied world is struck, by the situation in which the super-highways have served a magnificent purpose in speeding American and Russian armies.

Our armies moved to the Rhine over Hitler's concrete ribbons. They then swept on to the Elbe over more of the Autobahns. They stand with their tanks and armor moving rapidly south in the Bavarian re-count over the wide roads which permit experts to tear up the books on military campaigns and write new chapters. General Patton's spearheads dashed north on a road resembling Pennsylvania's dream route.

The highways have made possible the fastest way of maneuver in all history. They have enabled the isolation of defenders into hopeless masses of men who have surrendered and been hurried over concrete back to prisoner pens. In all the war, the highways of Germany have been of the greatest advantage to Allied arms.

We wonder whether the Germans are thinking about this turn of events, the complete irony of the Autobahns, built with promises of peacetime travel but primarily for the purpose of speeding German military might to conquest, returning to plague Hitler and his Third Reich in its present doom. If so, they soon must reach the conclusion that the one main benefaction of their battered dictator has proved to be one of the greatest curses.

Allies Go After Hitler

It's good to know that Hitler's chalet at Berchtesgaden has been blown to bits by R.A.F. bombs. We hope a hit was scored on the Fuehrer, too.

It's not, certainly, a premature. To many observers it has seemed strange that, up to this time, neither British nor American bombing experts made a direct drive to smash Hitler's house or his eyrie on the top of Kehlstein. A previous American bombing raid on Berchtesgaden aimed chiefly at railroad traffic.

The Fuehrer, of course, may not have been within 100 miles of his hideaway when the R.A.F. struck. Nazi propagandists have been trying to make believe he's still in Berlin. Maybe he's already outward bound for Spain, Argentina, Japan or the South Pole.

It isn't improbable, however, that he is somewhere in the Berchtesgaden region, holed up in one of the salt caves which honeycomb the mountains. Perhaps it is part of his devilish plan to remain there indefinitely and then come forth—in disguise—when all the shooting is done, and set about preparing what's left of Germany for another war.

Such a concept, however fantastic it may seem, fits into the theory held in some quarters that Hitler is permitting Germany to be wrecked, rather than surrender, in order that Allied administration of the Reich may be difficult, if not impossible, and that Nazi remnants may have opportunity to work under cover for a long time.

All evidence indicates that so long as Hitler is nominally in command of the situation within the Reich neither the Nazi party nor the German army will give up the fight, opines the Philadelphia Inquirer.

For that reason, if for no other, a carefully planned and executed campaign to get Hitler, alive or dead, would be sound Allied strategy. If Hitler is still the evil genius of Germany, his death or capture presumably would have a marked effect on the German people and the German army.

For all practical purposes Germany has now been defeated by Allied arms. Delay in attaining final victory will be costly to the Allies. Knocking out Hitler, wherever he may be, should help to speed final victory.

A continued, systematic effort should be made to get him.

Inspiring Good Will

To promote "greater understanding and closer relations between military personnel" of the United States and Mexico, officers and non-commissioned officers of all Eastern Defense Command Units stationed along the Mexican border have been ordered by their commander, Lieut. Gen. George Gruent, to become proficient in conversational Spanish.

The Eastern Defense Command includes what previously was the Southern Defense Command, the latter having been absorbed January 1. As a result of General Gruent's order, courses of instruction already have been begun at units in San Antonio, Laredo and El Paso, Texas. The courses also are open to enlisted men.

Citizens of every nation like to have residents of other countries show an appreciation of their language, and there is no better way of demonstrating this appreciation than by learning the language. This alone makes for better relations between the inhabitants of two different countries. From a knowledge of a foreign language, there follows an appreciation of the culture of the nation speaking that particular language.

Millions of residents of foreign nations have studied English and have dipped into English and American literature. Americans have been on the whole much slower to learn languages spoken in other nations. A policy similar to that announced by General Gruent should be inaugurated in areas where American troops are in contact with troops and civilians of other nations of the Western Hemisphere.

Patton and Hodges were advanced to four-star rank just as the war entered the four-star final stage.

The old saying is that beauty is only skin deep but some beauty isn't even that deep—cosmetically speaking.

We will know when the war is over. The newly hired emergency clerks in the stores will commence to be polite to us.

The Russian raid is quoted as saying that the Soviets will occupy Denmark. In short, Copenhagen blue is to be converted to red.

BEEF ESCAPES IN SHALER TOWNSHIP; POLICE AS COWBOYS

PITTSBURGH, April 27.—(INS)—All that hibernian on the roof that escaped from a Shaler township farm of Attorney Cyril F. Ruffenach, today had wandered over into McCandless township.

Shaler township police said they had gladly turned their cowboy duties over to the McCandless law after the five 800-pound animals had crossed the community line. Owner Ruffenach said that latest roundup reports had the cattle evading in a glen about three miles from the Ruffenach range. He added that he had given the police authority to shoot the cattle if there was no other way of corraling them.

PITTSBURGH, April 27.—(INS)—Embarrassment when ordering drinks in public taverns in sign language today prompted 100 members of the Pittsburgh Association of the Deaf to seek permission to serve liquor in their own club.

MORE APPLES IN STORAGE IN '45

HARRISBURG, April 27.—More than twice as many apples were being held in storage in Pennsylvania on February compared with a year earlier, the State Department of Agriculture announces, through a survey by the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service.

A total of 1,581,000 bushels of apples were in storage on the first of February this year compared with only 602,000 bushels held on the same date in 1944. At the same time 20,000 bushels of pears were held in storage compared with only 3,000 bushels a year earlier.

February 1 holdings of fluid cream totaled 300,000 pounds; creamery butter 4,264,000 pounds; American cheese 3,618,000 pounds; shell eggs 25,000 pounds; frozen eggs 3,397,000 pounds and poultry 8,117,000 pounds.

On the same date 69 per cent of cooler space in Pennsylvania cold storage warehouses were being used compared with 67 per cent a year earlier. Freezer space occupied was 84 per cent compared with 91 per cent on February 1, 1944.

Chicago, we read doesn't wish to be known as the "Windy City" any more. A sign in that direction would be if the big town on the lake stopped playing host to political conventions.

Victory Garden Need Is Greater Than Ever Before

WASHINGTON, April 27.—(INS)—President Truman warned bluntly today that the need for food and victory gardens is "greater now than at any time since the war began."

He called upon the millions of American backyard gardeners to produce "to the fullest extent in 1945" and help meet increased food demands on liberated areas and on the home front.

Mr. Truman's plea for more home-grown food was contained in a letter to former Gov. Prentice Cooper of Tennessee, chairman of the national advisory garden committee.

"Every new victory of our armed forces brings increased demands for food for liberated people," the President said. "The need for food is greater now than ever before. We must do everything in our power to produce all we can this year."

The Chief Executive asserted that American farmers have done "a marvelous job" of growing food, but added that "they must have help."

"Millions of families who grew victory gardens last year did an excellent service in helping to solve our nation's food problems," he continued. "We must use this great source of extra manpower to the fullest extent in 1945."

Postwar Plan Of Gov. Martin Is Making Progress

HARRISBURG, April 26.—(INS)—Gov. Edward Martin's $52,810,000 post war improvement program had the unanimous approval of the house today and speedy senate action was forecast by administration leaders.

House Minority Leader Hiram G. Andrews, of Cambria, claimed the program—to be administered by the governor—"Places no responsibility on any one for definite performance," but he gave the signal for democratic approval.

Under the program, $12,500,000 would be allocated to the department of forests and waters for stream clearance and reforestation; $12,325,000 would be earmarked for a health program to be administered by the health department; $19,985,000 would be set aside for penal improvements and $8,000,000 would be appropriated to enable the department of property and supplies to make improvements at State Teachers' colleges, the Cheyney Training School, the Thaddeus Stevens Industrial School, the Pennsylvania Oral School for the deaf and to repair monuments or properties administered by the Pennsylvania historical commission.

The senate mines and mining committee has approved the house-adopted bill appropriating $5,000,000 for dredging on the Schuylkill river.

Emergency Requests Only Kind Which Red Cross Can Care For

PITTSBURGH, April 27.—(INS)—In pointing out the tremendous aid the American Red Cross has been in transmitting messages to servicemen, officials have put forth a plea for families not to over-burden the already over-taxed facilities with non-emergency requests.

Personal messages of non-emergency nature to servicemen overseas should be carried out by the family through the use of commercial cable or mail services, it was declared. Officials also warned that the Red Cross cannot secure additional information beyond the official notification when a man is reported killed or missing in action or seriously injured or ill.

In recent years much of the sounding of ocean depths has been done with the help of echoes. The noise is made at the water's surface and an instrument records the echo. The sound goes to the bottom of the ocean, then comes back.

Toll Bridge Bill Report Is Made

Ceiling Of $7,000,000 Set For Buying Of Ten Toll Bridges In State

HARRISBURG, April 27.—(INS)—A ceiling of $7,000,000 representing a $3,000,000 saving has been fixed by the Senate Highways committee for the purchase of 10 toll bridges. Sen. John J. Snowden, R-Lycoming, chairman, announced when the acquisition bill was reported for action Thursday.

Twelve years ago the electorate approved a $10,000,000 bond issue to enable the State Highway department to purchase and free the 10 structures.

Harrisburg and Bethlehem have two bridges each and one each is located at Allentown, Charlestown, Clarks Ferry, Ellwood City, Point Merion and Sunbury.

McKeesport Mayor Asks Federal Aid For City Projects

McKEESPORT, Pa., April 27.—(INS)—Mayor Frank Buchanan of McKeesport today maintained that congress should review federal government's "lack of cooperation in providing funds for postwar public works planning of municipalities."

The Tube City mayor urged a study of the whole federal public works aid program in letters to Senators Joseph Guffey and Francis J. Myers. Labeling the house bill calling for a "loan" of $17,500,000 to cities for postwar planning as a "mere pittance," Buchanan declared:

"The bill even requires a city to start the projects on which loans are asked within three years and requires the city's financing of such projects without aid."

Ellport Sergeant Missing In Action

Sgt. Ray Miller Missing Over Negro Island With Crew Of B-24 Bomber

ELLWOOD CITY, April 27.—Staff Sgt. Ray E. Miller, 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. Miller of Ellport, is listed as missing in action over Negro Island in the Philippines since April 2, according to information sent to his parents.

In the Army Air Corps, Staff Sgt. Miller served as ball turret gunner and cameraman on a B-24 bomber. He has been in service since April 12, 1943 and left on overseas duty last December 4. His parents believe that it was on his 25th mission that he was lost.

Cancer Control Fund Drive Is Near Conclusion

Expect To Exceed Goal For Local Fund Before End Of Present Month

That old cliche that "the doctor enjoys your poor health" never was true of course and it isn't true today. The average doctor is interested in seeing that people keep well and to that end the medical profession has devoted years of time and a heap of ability towards killing off disease before it starts.

Presently the physicians of America are interested in the Cancer Control movement, a campaign which seeks to raise five millions of dollars in the United States to stop the ravages of cancer. Like the other medical societies of the country the Lawrence County Medical Society is back of this movement and the local campaign for funds for cancer control is receiving the wholehearted support of the doctors.

Dr. J. Wesley Post is chairman for the doctors in the campaign and by persuasion and by money the doctors are backing the work. The campaign for funds for the control of cancer ends on April 30. Here in New Castle it is hoped to finish the drive with a total that exceeds the quota. Solicitations have been made but many folks have been missed. Persons interested are asked to send their contributions to the campaign headquarters, the Greater New Castle Association, or to the treasurer of the fund, Hubert Sadler of the Union Trust Company.

I SEE YOU'RE USING CLOROX TO MAKE YOUR DRAINBOARD SANITARY!

SURE! WHY TAKE CHANCES, WHEN IT'S SO EASY TO USE CLOROX!

MORE and more women are learning the importance of making drainboards and other kitchen "danger zones" sanitary . . . as well as clean looking. And Clorox is the choice of millions of women in providing greater home sanitation which is especially important today when there are so few civilian doctors and nurses. Clorox not only disinfects, it and deodorizes and removes stains. And Clorox is free from caustic, a patented quality-feature which assures extra efficiency. It is concentrated for economy . . . a little goes a long way.

And too, Clorox gently bleaches dingy white cottons and linens snowy-white (brightens fast colors), removes stains, scorch, mildew . . . makes laundry fresh, sanitary. It lessens rubbing, conserves linens. Simply follow directions on label.

German Civilians Seek To Surrender To Escape Russians

By FRANK CONNIF
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE U. S. NINTH ARMY ALONG THE ELBE, April 27.—Frantic German civilians on the east bank of the Elbe, fleeing before the Russians, were screaming and praying today for the U. S. ninth army to protect them.

They were trying to cross the river for the sanctuary of the U. S. troops. Masses of men, women and children assembled on the river bank, pushing and shoving in an effort to get across. Some seemed to kneel before the Americans.

The civilians made it clear they feared the Russians would torture them or force them into slavery. A scene, typical of many occurred when a stylishly-dressed young woman offered her expensive automobile to any soldier who would transport her to U. S.-held territory.

The civilians were not the only ones running from the Russians. Hundreds of German troops, many of them hungry and tired of the war, likewise sought to surrender and get behind the U. S. lines.

Reports said that the exodus of the civilians towards the American territory extended well beyond the Elbe. Some of the civilians seemed willing to give up anything to escape the red army which was bearing down upon them like a great iron door ready to slam shut at a moment's notice.

He was born in Huntingdon, Pa., in March, 1913, but lived most of his life in Harrisburg where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dean, now live. Cpl. Dean was a mechanic for the Dolphin Motor company before entering the army two and one-half years ago.

Haystack's Travels

FIFTEENTH AAF IN ITALY—Even in Germany, where things are hardly normal, haystacks seldom are found parked across railroad tracks. So Second Lt. Harry J. Tyndale, Staten Island, N. Y., swooped low in his P-38 Lightning to investigate.

Close inspection showed it was an elaborately camouflaged locomotive. Tyndale brought his 50-caliber machine guns and 20-millimeter cannon into play to destroy his third locomotive for the day—and his first mobile haystack.

McKeesport Stuck With Horses And Can't Buy Tractor

McKEESPORT, Pa., April 27.—(INS)—Tub City's councilmen have discovered that "you can lead a horse..." to the auction block but it doesn't necessarily mean they're sold.

Since the war started, the two horses have been used in most of McKeesport's victory gardening. City officials decided that they would go modern and get a tractor because the horses were getting old and cost too much to feed.

Nobody offered to buy the "nags". Councilman Gray stated, adding that they couldn't buy a tractor either.

Babson Gives Views On Twenty Big Industries

By ROGER W. BABSON
Copyright—1945—Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.

BABSON PARK, Mass., April 27.—On a recent vacation in Florida, I had time to study America's greatest industries with special thought as to their safety for postwar investments.

The Big Five
(1) The industry best able to meet inflation, should be retail trade. Those concerns having a book value approximately equal to the selling price of their stocks are to be preferred. The variety chains should be safest of all.

(2) The oil group should come next in order. With these should be included certain metal shares although I do not like the copper. Probably the greatest gamble, for good or ill, are the gold stocks.

(3) The chemical industry should emerge from the war a leading post-war industry when the pharmaceutical group is included. Many new miracles are still in the laboratory stage.

(4) The electrical equipment industry, including electronics and plastics, offers attractive fields—especially for returning servicemen.

(5) Aviation should be included with the "Big Five", although its future is somewhat uncertain. I like the transport companies; but their stocks now seem high compared with those of the airplane manufacturers.

An Investment Group
(6) The paper and container industry should have better days ahead. This especially applies to some of the companies which have diversified in cans, plastics, glass and fibers, as well as paper.

(7) The rubber companies should make more money after the war. Current quotations, however, suggest that this group is only fairly priced, rather than attractively priced at the moment.

(8) The textile industry should remain a sound investment for some years after the war. It also has a good ratio as to book values. No spectacular rise, however, can be expected in textile securities.

(9) I am not an authority on the tobacco industry. My friends, however, insist that the tobacco stocks—other than cigar stocks—are reasonably priced and should be included in a diversified portfolio.

(10) Certainly the building and furniture industry should be mentioned at this point as having a good postwar future. This includes the cement, paint and certain steel companies.

Uncertain Industries
(11) This group includes the heavy steels which are in the "feast or famine" category; I am not now forecasting their postwar outlook.

(12) As a rule I like the food stocks—baking, canning, dairy products, meat packing, quick freezing, beverages, shortenings, etc. They, however, are now too mixed up with government regulations. However, I rate the dairy products first, and the canned fruits last.

(13) The postwar outlook for the automobile and truck industry looks good to me now. I class it in this uncertain group because my associates believe prices of some automobile stocks are too high.

(14) Banking and insurance stocks should be held to a limited amount by all investors who want gradual growth rather than yield.

(15) Equipment, for other than war purposes, should be in demand after the war. This applies to agricultural machinery and perhaps to railroad equipment. The immediate postwar future of office equipment depends upon what the Allied governments do with their surpluses.

Industries To Avoid
(16) The machine tool industry has had and passed its honeymoon.

(17) Certain public utility stocks, being, or to be, liquidated, have profit possibilities; but the bloom is off of the rest of the group.

(18) Profits of the coal industry should severely decline after the war. This especially applies to the anthracite companies.

(19) It seems as if the receipts of the motion picture industry would fall off after the war if television becomes universal.

(20) The worst of all industries is likely to be the railroad industry, including perhaps hotels, etc.

City Institute Here Thursday

W. C. T. U. Members Have
Program At Y. W. C. A.
—Many Subjects
Discussed

Two departments, Interracial Work and International Relations for peace were emphasized at the W. C. T. U. city institute held on Thursday at the Y. W. C. A.

Taking as her subject "Race Relations Trends," Mrs. Ray Williams held the attention of the group as she pointed out that education thru contact would solve many differences which now exist between the colored race and the white people. Segregation, she suggested, is the major problem of the negro race today, a race which is discriminated against in housing, education, transportation, recreation, in the army and in medical care.

International Relations for Peace department was represented by Miss Alice Sterling. She pictured the cost of war in terms, not of money, but of cripples, emotional strain, disease, famine and fear-stricken children throughout the coming generation.

The Dumbarton Oaks plan as a basis for world organization is known not to be ideal but the only workable plan now before the world conference.

Devotions led by Mrs. Joseph Phillips opened the morning session. Departmental discussions occupied the morning session as follows: legislation, Mrs. Jack Griner; speech contest, Mrs. Floyd Smock; flower mission, Mrs. Fred Beck; soldiers and sailors, Mrs. Floyd Worrell; temperance and missions, Mrs. Roy Graham; religious education, Mrs. J. O. Cameron; pageants and exhibits, Mrs. R. S. Cline; medical temperance, Mrs. W. F. Reed; spiritual life, Mrs. Joseph Phillips; alcohol education, Mrs. C. N. Moore; public education, Mrs. F. J. Fox.

Special music was rendered by Mrs. Fred Kenehan, Mrs. Fred Beck, Mrs. Harold Wright and Miss Clara Eddy with Mrs. Clara Campbell, county pianist, at the piano.

Life Memberships
Three county life memberships were subscribed, Mrs. R. S. Cline, Mrs. Roy Graham and Mrs. F. J. Fox, all of Highland union.

Afternoon devotions were led by Mrs. H. J. Kenehan, assisted by Miss Margaret Peebles. Mrs. Anna Harris led noontime prayer, Mrs. E. A. Crooks special prayer for the San Francisco conference and the armed forces, Mrs. J. R. McGeorge closing prayer.

Coffee was served by a committee from Scotland union to accompany a box lunch at noon. At the close of the afternoon session Mrs. Robert McBurney of Frances Willard union, assisted by Mrs. Clarence Aiken and Mrs. Frank Cypher, served amethyst beverages.

Mrs. Clarence Thayer, Mrs. Clarence Aiken, Mrs. T. E. McCreary and Mrs. F. J. Fox were the planning committee for the institute. Mrs. C. N. Moore was in charge of registrations.

Membership Drive Will Start May 1

Metropolitan Concert Guild Sets
Goal Of 2000 Members For Coming Season

Plans for the annual membership campaign were outlined, the program for the coming season discussed, and reports heard Thursday night April 26 when a dinner meeting of the directors of the Metropolitan Concert Guild was held in The Castleton hotel. Attorney Alvah M. Shumaker, the new president was in charge of the meeting.

The campaign for membership for the coming fall and winter season will take place May 1 to 15 with L. J. Lewis and W. G. Morgan in charge with headquarters in the Pennsylvania Power building. Already 700 of the past year's members have signified their intention of renewing their membership and of these 560 have asked for reserved seats. This year 850 seats will be reserved, all on the first floor.

The 1945-46 program is one of unusual promise, all four being attractions of merit. The four are the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra, with Edwin McGill, a New Castle pianist presenting a piano concerto as a special feature, Lotte Lehmann, Metropolitan Opera soprano, Sidney Foster, pianist and the American Ballad Singers.

A goal of 2,000 members has been set for this year and the indications are it will be reached and passed. A number of singers spoke briefly, among them David W. Rees, the immediate past president who asked for the same high degree of cooperation for President Shumaker as he had received.

SPOTLIGHT Of Today

(International News Service)

HERMANN GOERING

The German radio announcement that Adolf Hitler has deposed Hermann Goering as commander of whatever is left of the German Luftwaffe "because of acute heart trouble" indicates—whatever the reason—that, well-earned retribution at last has caught up with the boasted inventor of the air blitz.

It was Goering, the No. 2 man in the Nazi hierarchy, who early in the war set the world a shameful example by master-minding the brutal, terroristic, indiscriminate bombing of Rotterdam, Warsaw, Coventry and London. At the same time he boasted that Allied bombers never would appear over Germany—a boast that has been blasted to bits along with Germany's greatest cities, including Berlin.

Hermann Goering served his apprenticeship in killing during World War I, when he was a flyer in the Kaiser's army and rose to become commander of the famous Richthofen squadron.

After the war he became an early champion of Hitler and following the latter's rise to power was charged with building what became in 1935 the world's greatest air force. This was perhaps his greatest contribution to the German air effort, although he held many ministry posts and became a wartime industrial tycoon.

Goering in recent months has been variously reported slain, a suicide and ostracized from the inner Nazi circles.

Wage Stabilization Will Be Continued

Economic Stabilizer Davis Outlines Policy On Wage 'Freeze' In United States

WASHINGTON, April 27.—(INS)—Economic stabilizer William Davis said the administration policy is to keep the wage stabilization program until the flow of consumer goods is resumed.

This means, he conceded, very few wage increases in the near future. "There is very little left," Davis added.

"If our stabilization rules are adhered to until we can get rid of the war enough to get a flow of consumer goods, we will be all right," he said.

Testifying before the senate civil service committee considering a bill to boost wage of federal "white collar" workers, he urged an increase only to bring them within the War Labor Board formula.

The wage policy, he explained, is to keep the "little steel" formula, do what can be done within it to meet inequities and to raise sub-standard wages.

"This is not a 'freeze' policy," he said. "I am not afraid of the rule of wage stabilization so long as we treat all men alike."

"But if we break the rule we might as well throw it away and I'd not want to be responsible for wage stabilization."

Davis expressed tentative opposition to the proposal in the wage bill to give federal workers a ten percent differential for night work. This, he said, may be in violation of the wage stabilization rule.

Tax Evasions In Many Localities

WASHINGTON, April 27.—(INS)—Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau disclosed today that government investigations of tax evasion "are turning up plenty of pay dirt" throughout the nation.

Many surprises will be in store for both groups and individuals, the secretary told a news conference.

He declared that the much-publicized investigation on free spenders at Miami Beach, Fla., resorts was just the start of the nation-wide tax evasion probe—"but a good start."

"Now similar investigations are taking place quietly in every corner of the country," Morgenthau said.

LOCAL WOMEN GET THOUSANDS OF EXTRA RED POINTS

Every day, precious red points are being paid to housewives who turn in used fats to their butchers. Because this country is faced with a possible fat shortage, these used kitchen fats are even more urgently needed to make medicines, synthetic rubber, gunpowder, soaps, paints and a hundred other essentials on the battlefield and home front.

Every woman can help towards final Victory by saving every drop of used fats each time she cooks. Even a spoonful is worth salvaging. Won't you keep saving until final Victory over both Germany and Japan?

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Hewitt, of 115 East Wallace avenue, have received word from their son, Lt. James A. He had taken special training in the unit, in England, and made five jumps in one day, in order to get his wings. The outfit was composed of the two jump companies, and one glider company. He was attached to one of the jump companies.

Suspend Probe Of Fatal Plane Crash

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., April 27.—(INS)—The probe of the Pennsylvania central airliner crash near Morgantown on April 14 was suspended indefinitely Thursday after a three-day hearing failed to produce any cause of the accident.

W. K. Andrews, chief of the civil aeronautics board of investigation section, said that one possible cause of the loss of radio communication between the Morgantown airport and the plane, had been discounted at the hearing. Other than that, he stated no conclusive evidence had developed to determine the cause in which 20 persons were killed.

Extend Probe Of Black Market In Pittsburgh Area

PITTSBURGH, April 27.—(INS)—The Federal grand jury probe of Western Pennsylvania's alleged black market in meat today expanded its search for evidence by extending an invitation to the general public to come forward with any information it may have on black marketing.

The call to the public was revealed in a statement issued by Assistant United States Attorney W. Wendell Stanton just before the jury adjourned yesterday until Monday. The statement made by Stanton said:

"In response to the jury's request, members of the public will be heard next week. All information presented will be held confidential and will be used to supplement the evidence already in the hands of the grand jury."

In its first week of closed hearings, the jury questioned 20 witnesses. These included packers, retail meat merchants and Pittsburgh Newspaperman Ray Sprinkle, Pulitzer-prizewinner Sprinkle, in a series of published articles, claimed that in the disguise of "Alois Vondich," an itinerant meat-dealer, he was able to purchase a ton of meat through black market channels. Sprinkle charged that every pound of the "ton of meat" was purchased at above-ceiling prices and entirely free of red point encumbrances.

The jury's early adjournment for the week-end was called, Stanton said, to give "them a chance to consolidate some new leads on black market activities which had been uncovered in the testimony thus far given."

Sixty Seven Year Old Millionaire Is With Okinawa GI's

Brig. Gen. Goodyear Enlists To Drive Jeep Around As General's Observer

OKINAWA, April 27—(INS)—The happiest old warhorse of them all on this blazing battlefield is 67-year-old A. Conger Goodyear, whose bristling white eyebrows, reminiscent of former Vice President John N. Garner, can be spotted whistling to the front lines via jeep nearly every morning.

The items which make Goodyear's appearance even more unique—in addition to his age—are the following:

• He's a millionaire and he doesn't have to be here.

• Couldn't Sit Still

Brigadier General of the 81st Field Artillery in the last war and still holding the same rank in the New York guard, which replaced the Twenty-Seventh Division when the latter was federalized. Goodyear simply couldn't sit still in his comfortable home at Old Westbury, Long Island while a war was on and New Yorkers were in it.

Hence he wangled the appointment as observer for Gen. Hugh A. Drum, New York Guard commander, and as deputy commissioner of the Pacific Ocean area, American Red Cross.

Now, near the completion of a 50,000 mile tour, Goodyear—affectionately known as "Sergeant"—among the men he lives with there—is heading back home, to such humdrum duties as chairman of the board of the Gaylord Container Co., and the Gulf, Mobile and Ohio Railroad, as well as a membership on the board of governors of New York hospital.

No old fuddy duddy, Goodyear was first president of the museum of modern art and carries a camera about his neck, snapping pictures everywhere and keeping a notebook full of names and addresses to look up back home, or send snapshot prints of men he's met in the field.

"Women will run the world—after the war," solemnly declares a magazine writer. Wow! What a chance that guy took! Supposing the typesetter had accidentally put an "i" in that word "run!"

BRIEF NEWS OVER STATE

(By International News Service)

STATE COLLEGE—Walter C. Parsons, operating engineer at Pennsylvania State College, believes his brief moment of glory of 27 years ago will be relieved shortly. He confidently looks forward to blowing the school whistle to signal the end of the war, a task he enjoyed in 1918.

PHILADELPHIA—Some wizard in the Army's Third Service Command figured that an A.W.O.L. soldier cost the taxpayers $339.97 in salary, meals, transportation, guards, loss of rating as well as pay and a string of other items. A guard house vacation and KP were not included.

HARRISBURG—When Rep. Gus Wachhaus (R) Schuylkill presided over the House of Representatives recently he was the first blind assemblyman to handle the gavel on the rostrum.

EASTON—William James Worlds, apparently believing the "quality of mercy is not strained" asked Judge H. F. Laub for a parole nine days after entering the local calaboose to start a nine months sentence.

BRISTOL—Bucks county legislators looked forward with some apprehension to a proposed skit by a travel club burlesquing legislative procedure at the state capitol.

JOHNSTOWN—Kenneth S. Covey, Pittsburgh chief of the veterans' administration, told local businessmen the problems of returned servicemen and women were the concern of civic organizations but warned against establishing agencies which might overlap long-standing veterans' aid bureaus.

NORRISTOWN—Chief of Police David Burns reported investigating accidents caused by a cigarette and a dog. One car careened into a tree when the driver attempted to light a cigarette while a truck smashed into a pole after swerving off the road to avoid hitting a dog.

CHESTER—Delaware county's domestic relations office attempts to settle marital differences heading for divorce courts by summoning the principals for off-the-record conferences with no punches pulled. Officials report the system has been successful.

PITTSBURGH—The old-time "handkerchief trick" cost Bird V. Ritts $900. Two strangers persuaded Ritts to withdraw the money from a bank to match a sum they carried in a handkerchief which they handed him as evidence of good faith after he had placed his funds into it. When Ritts later opened the handkerchief, after the affable strangers failed to reappear, he found nothing but strips of paper.

MEDIA—A prisoner who was sentenced by a Delaware county jurist two years ago to a maximum 10-year term for a slaying was recently married by the same jurist in the Media court house. The bride went home, but the man, wearing a tuxedo, returned to his cell.

CARE FOR LITTLE PIGS TO PRODUCE MORE PORK

With every effort being made to raise every spring-farrowed pig to reach market, several factors which aid in caring for little pigs are suggested.

Some provision should be made to get the sow and her litter outdoors, so the pigs are exposed to direct sunlight and come in contact with the soil by the time the pigs are a week old. Little pigs will start to nibble at shelled corn when 10 days old, and a supply should be provided to teach them to eat. In this way they can adapt themselves to ward getting on full feed as soon as possible in order to make good gains and growth by weaning time.

Although it is too common practice to wean pigs at four to five weeks of age, experience shows they should not be weaned until eight or nine weeks old.

Special attention should be made this year to save as many pigs as possible, then give them proper attention for rapid gains in weight and growth to help meet the critical shortage of pork products at this time.

POULTRY ON RANGE NEEDS AMPLE SHADE

Ample shade should be provided for poultry on range. Open sheds or shelters should be provided for unless thinned-out wooded areas, brush-rows or other shade is available close to the range.

In the absence of shade, chicks may crowd into the shelters. This often leads to feather picking, cannibalism and poor feathering. By providing open sheds for shade now, these will be available in hot weather for pullets to stretch out comfortably. If open sheds are arranged so that sunshine can reach each part of the ground surface at some time during the day to dry out the soil, there is less danger of such areas becoming filthy or a source of disease contamination.

TASTY WILD GREENS PEP UP SPRING MEALS

Balance your meals with wild greens. They give variety to spring meals, provide minerals and vitamins, and are free for the picking.

Wild greens are a favorite with many families, but for a change you might like to try the following recipe which can be used as a main dish. It is very good for pokeyed or any of the leafy greens. Here is the recipe: Cut the shoots or leaves in inch lengths wash well and precook in boiling salted water (just enough to cover) about 15 minutes. Drain and fry in a small amount of fat. Beat six eggs, season with salt and pepper, and add to the greens. Cook as you would an omelet over low heat. When brown on the bottom, place under the broiler to brown the top. Serve at once. Three tablespoons of sharp cheese may be added to the beaten eggs before cooking them.

HOME-BUILT ELEVATOR DOES MANY FARM CHORES

A farm elevator, built at home and equipped with a fractional horse-power electric motor can be utilized for many jobs and chores, as well as saving labor. Plans for constructing such an elevator have been developed by agricultural engineers at Pennsylvania State college and are available at the Agricultural Extension office, 206 Post Office building, New Castle.

The elevator, as outlined, can be used for small grains, eat corn or bales but is not intended for potatoes, sacks or sheaves of grain. The capacity depends largely on the size of motor used.

Hagg Will Run In Philadelphia

Gunder Hagg To Run Special Mile At Penn Relays Saturday

By LEWIS BURTON
(International News Service Sports Writer)
PHILADELPHIA, April 27.—(INS)—Sweden's Gunder Hagg, making his American farewell, shares the spotlight with strong Michigan, Army and New York university teams in the 51st University of Pennsylvania relay carnival, which begins its two-day run on Franklin field this afternoon.

The Swedish record-wrecker is entered in a one-mile handicap tomorrow, but international spice will be furnished today by Haakan Lidman, his fellow traveler, in a special 120-yard high hurdles race.

Dan Ferris, AAU secretary, completed arrangements yesterday for Hagg to sail for Lisbon some time after midnight tomorrow from this city on the 7,000-ton Portuguese freighter San Miguel. He will travel by air from Lisbon to Stockholm by way of London. He is finishing off training in Greenwich, Conn., today, and will arrive here tomorrow afternoon.

Hagg Primed
A disappointment indoors, Hagg is primed for the two-fold objective here of breaking the track record, 4:11.8, set by Glenn Cunningham in 1934, and of eclipsing the 4:10.9 clocking by Jim Rafferty in Buffalo last month, which stands as the best time of the year. Ferris, who has remained in daily contact with Gunder the Wunder, predicts he will do it, given favorable track conditions.

Eleven mediocre opponents have been obtained. Hagg will allow handicaps up to 150 yards. Coast Guardsman Donald O'Leary of Atlantic City, N. J., reported in condition to force Hagg-the-Leg thru a fast three-quarters, declined a handicap and will start on scratch. The Swede has run a mile in 4:02.6.

We know one man who was busted before the war came on, and will be busted again after the high wages spree is over. But boy, he is cock of the walk now.—McCune, Kan., Herald.

Fair Or Foul

NEW YORK, April 27.—"Because of the great victories you are winning over our enemies, we shall give you, when you return home, the greatest era of sports in the history of the world. And you will contribute to it, play a part in it."

The foregoing is from Happy Chandler's special message to service men all over the world, his first message as the new high commissioner of baseball.

In that paragraph he puts his finger prophetically on something, which as he says, will be the "greatest era of sports in the history of the world." Men who have observed sports booms of the past, including the golden age of the 20s, await the arrival of this new one like something that inevitably must be the biggest thing that ever happened. It probably will be all of that.

Lots Of Money
This generation has been taught by war to make and spend money. The worst imaginable promotions now attract thousands of spectators, who are less interested in the outcome or even in the amount of entertainment offered than in the chance to get some action. What they want to do is spend the easy money that keeps rolling in.

Much of the prosperity will last for some time after this war is over—according to people who are supposed to know about these things and who write thereof—with the result that gate receipts records of the past must be shattered soon after the last shots are fired.

The last war produced the so-called golden age and the greatest assortment of athletes of all kinds that the world had ever seen up to then. There may be guys around today who have an edge on the champs of that time, but you will find it difficult to convince anybody of this.

The gents who made up the drama and glamour and color of the golden age still stand as the pattern for greatness, and perhaps they always will. The end of this war will determine that.

Not Like Old Times
It seems inconceivable, however, that we again shall see at one time the likes of all the greats who came along at one time in every branch of sport after World War I. That will in no wise affect gate receipts. Somebody has said that a new generation comes along every 10 years. People who are under 40 years old now and eager for sports know little of what occurred back there except by hearsay. They either were in school or financially unable to be witnesses to some of the greatest feats of all times.

Now they are—many of them, let us say—prosperous people who have money to spend and time to kill and they will be our ringiders at the big events that most certainly are just around the corner. Only the old-timers will be able to say with authority—but still perhaps erroneously—whether the guys who will participate in the second golden age are better or worse than the ones after the last war. And that won't make any difference any way. The past isn't always important to posterity.

son was given a prize for having bowled in the most games during the season, 84.

Acclaim was given the championship First U. P. team, captained by Lyle Hughes, and including Clarence England, Fred Broad, Fred Scheppele, Joe Dudek, Herb Samuels, Fred Finch, Cliff Young and Joe Replogie.

Forrest-England High
Mythical high average man for the league was Dean Forrest of the Second U. P. team who only rolled in 31 games in the second half and had the fine average of 157. Real average leader for the season was Clarence England of the championship First U. P. team with the splendid average of 152. "Tucker" Nolan of the First Presbyterian team had an average of commendable nature, 151 in 79 games, while Covert of the Harbor U. P. was also among the leaders with an average of 150 for 58 games.

The league as the last official act of the 1944-45 season, voted last night to resume play next fall at the Neshannock Bowlodrome at 9 o'clock.

Opposition To Racing Measure

Measure To Legalize Horse Racing And Pari-Mutuels In State Introduced

WOULD BE UP TO VOTERS OF STATE

HARRISBURG, April 27.—(INS)—A measure legalizing horse racing and pari-mutuel betting in Pennsylvania with the revenues earmarked for school purposes appeared headed today for stiff opposition in the House.

Moving with a sudden swiftness that apparently caught opponents at the post, the House law and order committee reported for floor action a measure authorizing the establishment of three major race tracks in the commonwealth.

Up To Voters
Rep. Frank A. Costa (R) Philadelphia, one of the sponsors, said the bill which would impose a four per cent tax on track revenues would net the state an estimated $15,000,000 a year. A three-member commission to regulate racing would be established.

The committee amended the measure to provide for county options to determine whether citizens desired the track located within the sub-division. Counties would benefit from "breakage", or the odd pennies on bets.

If the measure were passed by the General Assembly, referenda could be held in the fall election. The bill was co-authored by Philadelphia Reps. Cornelius J. Loftis (R), Morris J. Root (R), Joseph A. Scanlon (D), Joseph J. O'Brien (D).

Probe Employment In Major Leagues

WASHINGTON, April 27.—(INS)—Rep. Marcantonio (AL-N.Y.) introduced a resolution in the House Thursday calling for an investigation of the employment policy of big league baseball clubs.

The Marcantonio resolution provided that the secretary of commerce be directed to investigate the National and American League clubs to determine whether discrimination exists in the hiring of players because of race, color or creed.

SUNDAY ICE HOCKEY BILL INTRODUCED

HARRISBURG, April 27.—(INS)—Legislation which would permit the playing of ice hockey on Sunday afternoons after two o'clock if approved by local option was pending in the House today.

Sponsored by Sen. Montgomery F. Crowe (R) Monroe, the measure was given the green light by the House municipal corporations committee yesterday.

St. Louis Browns came to life with a 4 to 3 triumph over Cleveland. Pitcher Nels Potter won his own game in the ninth with a single. The second game of a scheduled doubleheader was postponed because of rain.

The luckless Boston Red Sox, still reporting a horse collar in the w column, dropped their seventh straight start when they lost to Washington 4 to 1. Johnny Nigeling, the winner hunter, bore down in the pinches and also helped himself to two hits.

Other teams were held idle by cold weather or rain.

MOVE UPWARD

Volume Drops But Trend Of New York Stock Market Is Higher

NEW YORK, April 27.—(INS)—Volume dwindled in the stock market today but prices moved ahead fractionally when traders switched to the buying side.

First hour turnover totaled 230,000 shares vs. 400,000 in the same period yesterday.

Douglas Aircraft continued an individual feature, jumping another 2 points on top of yesterday's four point spurt.

Pivotal issues in steels and motors crawled forward less than a half point. In the rail section Union Pacific and Baltimore & Ohio picked up good gains while others in the group were steady and quiet. Selective buying helped lift scattered building, rubbers and chemicals. American Can advanced a point. Lehigh Coal & Navigation climbed 3-4 to 143-4.

The bond market was firm and dull.

President Asks Wallace To Study Abuse Of Patents

Have Been Used To Circumvent
Anti-Trust Laws, Truman
Tells Secretary

WASHINGTON, April 27.—(INS)—President Truman today came out flatly against legislation which he said in some instances has permitted the misuse of patents "to support unlawful monopolies in contravention of the purposes of the anti-trust laws."

He wrote Secretary of Commerce Henry A. King that a study be undertaken on the subject and recommendations for legislation to correct such misuses be made to the White House for submission to congress.

In this study, the president suggested that Wallace consult with the attorney general, the director of economic stabilization, the director of the office of scientific research and development, and the chairman of the national patent planning commission.

Don't Always Promote Progress
"Much has lately been said and written to suggest that the patent statutes do not in all respects serve the constitutional purpose to promote the progress of science and useful arts, and that patents have been misused to support unlawful monopolies in contravention of the purpose of the anti-trust laws," the president said in his letter.

"I believe the congress would welcome such assistance as the executive branch of the government might be able to give in presenting the results of a full and objective study of the operation and effectiveness of the patent laws and their relation to the purposes of the anti-trust laws and to the post-war economy, together with specific proposals for such legislation as may seem to be appropriate. Thus far the several departments of the government have made no concerted effort to formulate a policy on this subject."

Pfc. Robert Pitzer Has Been Liberated

New Wilmington Man, Formerly
Reported Missing, Later A Prisoner Of War

Mrs. R. A. Pitzer, of New Wilmington, has been informed that her husband, Pfc. Robert A. Pitzer, who was reported missing in action in France on January 19, and was later a prisoner of war in Germany, was liberated April 14, by American soldiers. He was taken by plane from Germany to England, where he is now confined to a hospital. Pfc. Pitzer expects to be home soon.

Pfc. Pitzer has been in service since March of last year and went overseas in November. He was serving with the famous 42nd Rainbow Division of the Seventh Army.
